Stars of tomorrow

An exciting new initiative is in the works for the Rome Chamber Music Festival: this year, it will give hands-on education as well as high-profile performance experience to young music students from Europe and the United States.

Well-established musical stars will open the festival but the last two evenings will feature works interpreted by emerging young artists. Catch a fresh performance of Anton Dvorak's Trio for two violins and viola on 8 June, or Beethoven's "Razumovsky" String Quartet on the 9th.

5-9 June (5th by invite only). 9pm. Gonfalone Oratory, Via del Gonfalone, 32a. €15-25. Call 0632650719 or email tickets@romechamberfestival.org for tickets and info. www.romechamberfestival.org
